Dallas Art Fair Announces Exhibitors for 2019 Edition

By Haley Chouinard

The Dallas Art Fair has announced their exhibitors list for its 2019 edition. The 11th annual fair will feature nearly 100 exhibitors from 30 cities around the globe.

Among the key first-time exhibitors are European galleries like Blain|Southern (London and Berlin), Sadie Coles HQ (London), and Lisson Gallery (London and New York).

The fair also announced plans to deepen its footprint in the city with a permanent project space in the Design District, which will stage year-round exhibitions and programming from its exhibitors and partners.

“This year, we feel the fair’s impact on Dallas more than ever,” John Sughrue, Dallas Art Fair chairman, said in a statement. “Our new project space will open even more doors for our partners and exhibitors, and is a testament to our commitment to providing high-quality cultural programming for the city even when the fair is over.”

The fair will take place within the Fashion Industry Gallery in the Dallas Arts District from April 11-14, 2019.
